Belleville Area College plans to raise tuition to $32 from $30 per credit hour beginning this fail to compensate for state funding cutbacks. The college board voted 4-2 in favor of the increase at Wednesday night's meeting.

Board Chairman Robert Maxwell said the tuition increase would generate $465,000 for the college is funding by $441,258 for the 1992 fiscal year ending in June. State funding is expected to decrease by $500,000 in 1993.

"The increase in tuition is not taken lightly," said Trustee Michael Bowen. "We have to meet our expenses and this is the only way in the short run we can meet that need.' and Mark Levy voted in favor of the increase. Thomas Fratt and Ted Farmer voted against the hike. Kay Bennett was absent for the vote.

The last time the school raised tuition was in 1989 when the cost per credit hour went to $30 from $23.

Pratt said he did not want to place a financial burden on stufor their education. "If there is any other way we can bring in the money, we have an obligation to search for those other areas before going after the sones of the proper state of the s

Recently, however, a new soft implant has been developed that can fit through a 4mm (about 1/8 inch) incision.

Sutureless (No Stitch) Cataract Surgery Until now, all cataract surgery required a large incision into the eye to remove the cataract and implant a lens. Eight or more stitches were required to close the wound.

A new surgical technique now allows this surgery to be done without sutures. The result is a rapid recovery of vision and an immediate return to normal activities.

Muscling up — Roger Moss, 24, of Granite City placed hitrin in the Mr. Midwest light heavyweight bodybuilding competition in Rockford recently, Moss, who trains at the Tri-Cities YMCA, moved to town last year from Cairo. He plans to enter a state competition in Dekalb in June before moving on to national competition. He said he was a bit nervous and held his poses for only about 30 seconds, although he had 90 seconds to work with. If can beat those guys next time," said Moss, who hadn't competed in four years until this event.

For those who've reached age
60 to 62, financial planner
Katharine McGee of suggests a pre-retirement test — in which McGee's senior clients limit

Yet, other statistics put the average income of widows in their senior years at just $6,000 a year, he says.

Another statistic shows the average 55-year-old retiree can expect to live another 20 years.

"The danger is you'll outlive your savings." Keel said.

Some of the major expenses retirees can cut include the costs of going to work — clothing, commuting, lunch, etc.

Another is paying off the mortgage on a home, although that is money, McGee said.

If you're within five years of paying off the mortgage, the monthly payment is mostly principal, so you wouldn't save much.

If your mortgage interest rate is, say, 7 percent, the after-tax cost is about 5 percent (Uncle Sam pays the rest through the you could invest the monthly payment in something paying 8 percent after-tax, "Mat's a better deal," McGee said.

may not know that the IRS may be able to help families with a special tax provision — the Earned Income Credit (EIC).
The come families who have income from a job and who have income from a job and who have a child living at home. The EIC is a tax credit entered on your federal income tax return. While all tax income tax return. While all tax credits reduce your taxes, the EIC is the only one that you can get even if no tax is owed. You can get money back even if your income was so low that you wouldn't otherwise file a tax return.

The EIC for tax year 1991 is divided into three parts. There's a basic credit for working families with children (up to $1,235). There is an additional credit (up and the state of the sta

Disabled widows and widowers considered these spendingers of their spouse's death can get survivors' benefits from Social Security.

That's been true for several vivors' benefits from Social Security.

That's been true for several years; there are 54,000 widows and 1000 widowers receiving those benefits. Until recently, however, a widow or widower had to meet a stricter test of disability than other applicants for Social Security.
